

---

My learning preferences

Rewards I like are: (certificates, tokens, stickers, comments on my work, a chat with my teacher, time to choose, showing my work to the headteacher...)

I like to get feedback about my learning: (quietly with just me and my teacher, just send a note to my parents, write it in my book, send me an email...)

I like to study: (quietly on my own with no distractions, with my friends, on my own with music or TV, on my own in a busy place...)

I learn well when I:

Read things

Listen to someone explain

Discuss it with a study partner

Draw pictures or diagrams of things

Watch a TV programme about it

Find out about it on the internet

---

What I need support with

I find these lessons difficult sometimes:

Some things I have had trouble understanding are:

Some skills I am finding difficult are:

---

What I am getting better at

The lessons I enjoy are:

Some things I have learned recently are:

I have been practising these new skills:

I use these strategies to help me remember what I have learned:

Practising every day

Rhymes and key words

Mind maps or other visual/graphic strategies

Working with a study partner

Writing notes and summarising

Making key cards and looking through them

Play a computer game

Other _____

---

My targets

These are the targets I had this term:

I can do these things now:

I need to practise these things some more:

These are the targets I am going to work on next term:

---

Figure 3.9 Learning conference script

Photocopiable:

The Inclusion Toolkit © Sarah Herbert, 2011 (SAGE)